on
Access to Medical Products
Achieving the SDGs 2030

9-11 October 2018 | New Delhi, India
Programme Booklet

Acknowledgements

Access to medicines is a critical factor for success of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda (SDG Agenda) that aims to ensure healthy lives and promote well-being of all people of all ages. The main objective of the Conference is to take forward the recommendations from the 1st World Conference 2017 and build on the work done for access to medical products in the context of SDGs (including trade agreements) in line with GPW 13 of WHO.

The World Health Organization would like to thank the following for their support and contribution to the '2nd World Conference on Access to Medical Products-Achieving the SDGs 2030':

- Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India
- World Health Organization
- Indian Council of Medical Research
- Translational Health Science and Technology
- Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council
- Biotech Consortium India Limited
- Research & Innovation Systems in Developing Countries
- Ministry of Culture, Government of India

Conference objective

The main objective of the 2nd World Conference 2018 is to take forward the recommendations from the 1st World Conference 2017 and build on the work done for access to medical products in the context of SDGs (including trade agreements) in line with GPW 13 of WHO.

Specific objectives

1. Take forward recommendations of the 1st World Conference 2017 at national and international levels
2. Promote enabling ecosystem in the context of 13th GPW for access to medical products
3. Foster new approaches in innovation landscape for medical products and health technologies for accelerating research and innovation
4. Identify knowledge, information and policy options on the interface of international trade and health to achieve SDG 2030 goals.

Background

WHO embarked on 13th Global Programme of Work¹ (GPW13) for strategic direction in Sustainable Development Agenda 2030 (SDG) for health which is vital for the future of our world. The GPW13 states people continue to be susceptible to communicable diseases while the burden of non-communicable diseases is increasing. It is clear that reliable access to effective, safe, quality-assured and affordable medical products (medicines, vaccines, diagnostics, devices) is key to making progress towards Universal Health Coverage (UHC) and the SDGs. The WHO Constitution affirms the health of all people is fundamental to the attainment of peace and security and is dependent on the fullest cooperation of individual and States. GPW 13 is structured around the “triple billion” goal for three interconnected strategic priorities:

- Healthy Lives – 1 billion more people living healthier lives
- Universal health coverage – 1 billion more people with universal health coverage
- Health emergencies – 1 billion more people made safer (making us all safer)

The contribution of India for access to medical products worldwide is well recognized. India is a major manufacturer of medical products and generics. In vaccine manufacturing regulation rebenchmarking by a team of international experts convened by WHO in 2017 reaffirmed that the Indian National Regulatory Authority (NRA) is well equipped to produce and monitor safe, effective and quality vaccines. WHO prequalification of Indian manufacturers, facilitates supply of vaccines through the international procurement system, a major breakthrough for vaccine supplies to low- and middle-income countries. India is engaging in scientific progress and R&D for development of affordable products with supportive technology platforms, network of clinical sites and testing facilities and health technology innovation for meeting critical health needs.

In several recent WHA resolutions it has been recognized that health systems need to promote access to medical products (medicines, vaccines, diagnostics, devices) to ensure universal access to health care, rational use of medical products and the sustainability of health systems². Further, in 2016, the report of the UN Secretary-General's High-Level Panel on Access to Health Technologies targeted incoherencies between trade and public health objectives. At this year's World Health Assembly (WHA2018), the WHO Secretariat was tasked with developing a roadmap on access to medicines and medical products³, in time for the next Executive Board. Investment in research for new products, especially for health conditions prevalent in low- and middle-income countries, is essential. At the same time, public health needs must be protected. In practice, greater capacity to work within intellectual property and competition rules, and use TRIPs flexibilities⁴ would help improve access for Medical products.

WHO policies promote appropriate access to medical products, in line with the WHO's global strategy and plan of action on public health, innovation and intellectual property, including policies on: access to generic medicines and innovation; quality-assurance of products through effective regulation and promoting rational use of medical products.

Access to essential medicines has been a priority in the Regional Flagship on UHC since 2014. To improve the quality and safety of medical products India is actively participating to promote regulatory collaboration for access to medical products through the South-East Asia Regulatory Network (SEARN). South-East Asia Region Member States Regional Committee has endorsed ten medicines-related resolutions since 2002, of which four are current⁵.

The 1st World Conference on Access to Medical Products and International Laws for Trade and Health, in the Context of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development held in New Delhi, 2017 focused substantially on ways to address these challenges⁶. The 1st World Conference 2017 led to 142 recommendations related to national and international policies for Access to medical products agenda (in the framework of globalization and trade agreements). The contribution of partners to the Conference: WHO, Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council (BIRAC), a public sector undertaking of the Department of Biotechnology, Translational Health Science and Technology Institute (THSTI), an autonomous institute of the Department of Biotechnology, Ministry of Science and Technology, Government of India, ICMR, Indian Society for International Law was invaluable. Key ministry(ies) have been identified for implementation of the Recommendations and nodal officers are designated to jointly coordinate for the purpose.

- 4 The 1994 Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) focused on patent protection. The 2001 Doha Declaration in WTO emphasized "TRIPs flexibilities" as measures to protect public health.
- 5 International trade and health (SEA/RC59/R9); Measures to ensure access to safe, efficacious and affordable medical products (SEA/RC62/R6); National essential drug policy including the rational use of medicines (SEA/RC64/R5); Effective management of medicines (SEA/RC66/R7).

Given the importance of the agenda, the Ministry of Health announced the “2nd World Conference on Access to Medical Products – Achieving the SDGs 2030” during the 2017 Conference itself. The 2nd World Conference 2018 seeks to build on the consensus and deliberations made in the previous Conference. The Agenda of the 2nd World Conference 2018 reflects these priorities.

Delhi in Brief

Located in Northern India, Delhi is said to be one of the oldest cities in the world. With 22 million inhabitants, it is India's capital and a hub of the country's politics, culture and commercial activity. It is one of the world's leading cities, with eminence in the arts, commerce, education, entertainment, fashion, healthcare, professional services, research and development and tourism all contributing to its prominence. Delhi, located on the bank of the Yamuna River, is a microcosm of India.

The city is known for its historical monuments. It became the capital of a Muslim empire in India under Qutubuddin Aibak, builder of the Qutub Minar, in 1193. Sir Edwin Landseer Lutyens planned New Delhi and designed the majestic Rashtrapati Bhawan (President House, formerly the palace of the Viceroy) as well as the parliament and other important government buildings. The architecture of these buildings is mainly European, with details of indigenous Indian styles. The weather in Delhi in November is expected to be between a max of 29.6°C and minimum of 11.5 °C. Delhi is easily reachable from all major countries of the World and to domestic travellers from anywhere in India. Being one of the most historic Capitals in the world, Delhi has a plethora of tourist sites.

Experience the culture and heritage that Delhi has to offer by visiting the landmarks of Delhi.
